VARIETIES.

AN old gentleman of great experience says that he is never satisfied that a lady understands a kiss unless he has it from her own mouth.

"You are very handsome," said a gentleman to a lady.

"Ah!" said the lady, "so you would say if you did not think so."

"And so you would think," answered he, "though I should not say so."

CAPTAIN MOORE, who superintended the burial of the Union prisoners at Andersonville, in answer to numerous letters desiring to know if remains can be recovered, wishes it stated that a full list of those buried there, together with other information, will be published on the first of October.

A Western editor thus records a double disappointment: "We expected to have a death and a marriage to publish this week; but a violent storm prevented the wedding; and the doctor having taken sick himself, the patient recovered; and were accordingly cheated out of both."

Tramp, Tramp, Tramp.

Americans are peculiar in one thing—they will sing a song to death. In our brief existence we can recall many instances of the kind. We remember how often "Old Dan Tucker" was taunted with being too late to come to the evening meal; how little rest we gave "O Susanna," (we owe Susanna a weighty debt) and how entranced we alluded to the eyes of "Dearest Mae," those orbs that rendered moonlight entirely superfluous. For a long time "The Poor Old Slave" was allowed little repose, although he had ostensibly gone to rest. "The Old Folks at Home" were ruthlessly torn from that quiet and seclusion which their age and infirmities imperatively demanded, and forced to do duty in every minstrel and concert company in the land. "Old Dog Tray," the faithful old pup, was for a long time drawn by the tail through all manner of brass instruments, wound up to an agonizing pitch by piano keys, and made to howl plainly in four voices. The "Silver Moon" had to roll on by day as well as night, constantly performing the unremunerative task of guiding "the traveler on his way," apparently regard'ess as to whether "the nightingale's song was in tune" or not. "Home, Sweet Home," has been so successfully divested of all its attractive features, that many people have been satisfied to become wanderers for the remainder of their existence. "Gentle Annie" was a great bore, for a time; although we were constantly assured that "thou wilt come no more, gentle Annie," she still kept coming. Then there was no end to those winds that "blew bitter across the Wild Moor." We got very sick of so much "blowing" over the moor. Ohello, the Moor of Venice, wasn't blow'd over more. "Nellie was a lady," sang everybody. Well, she might have been, but where an assertion of that nature is made so often and so persistently, we are inclined to question the foundation for the assertion. We have heard young ladies singing "Who will care for mother now?" while their old mothers were wearing themselves out in the kitchen over the family washing. Then there is "John Brown's Body." Instead of being permitted to lie quietly "mouldering in the grave," it was kept marching on, with enough knapsacks "strapped on his back," to supply a regiment with that necessary article of camp and garrison equipage. "When this cruel war is over," had a pretty good run. The heartiest congratulations that were induced by the termination of the war, arose from the fact that people got over singing "when this cruel war is over," &c. Now the popular tongue is singing and whistling, "Tramp, tramp, tramp, the boys are marching." We are in great danger of being trampled to death with it. You hear it on the streets, in the workshop and in the billiard saloon. "Beneath the starry flag we will breathe the air again." We had been holding our breath, or else breathing chloroform up to this period, we suppose, but now we breathe the air again. That air is breathed by a great many people about now. What next? We await the reply of the popular song writer. —[St. Joseph Herald.]

A LOVE LETTER.—The following love letter we obtain from one of our exchanges, and publish it for the benefit of such of our readers as may wish to write love letters and lack the style:

Och, Paddy, awate Paddy! if I was your daddy, I'd kill you wid kisses entirely; if I was your brother, and likewise your mother, I'd see that ye went to bed early. To taste of your breath I'd starve me to death, and lay off my hoops altogether. To joost have a taste of your arms on my waste, I'd laff at the mainest of wether. Dear Paddy be mine, me own swate valentine, ye'll find me both gentle and civil; our life we will spend on an illegant ind, and care may go dance wid the devil.

When to select seed potatoes. The best time to select seed potatoes is when they are dug. As soon as they are brought to the surface and lie spread on the ground, the best can be selected with less trouble than at any other time. Those that are perfectly matured, and of good shape, having the marked characteristics of the variety, and good average size, should be selected for seed, in preference to those of any other qualities. They should then be placed in boxes or barrels, and kept where they will not be injured by freezing or by warmth. If seed potatoes are saved in this manner for several years in succession, we have no doubt a decided improvement would be perceived in the yield per acre, as well as in the quality of the crops. And we think this plan will prove an effectual security against small ones, and a good defence against the rot. When potatoes first come from the ground, the skins have a clearness, which they soon lose. —[American Agriculturist.]

SOW WHEAT.—The incessant rains in harvest time did great damage to the wheat crop throughout the West. But little good wheat was harvested. Millions of bushels were damaged or destroyed. This must have a great effect upon the prices of the next crop of wheat. We think farmers can plant largely of wheat and obtain high prices. We know of no crop that promises a better price.

But the land should be prepared in the best possible manner, so that a heavy yield may be obtained. Be very careful to obtain good seed. So much wheat has been damaged that it will be difficult to get reliable seed. Cleanse it thoroughly before sowing.

SOUTHERY mentions a Spaniard who always put on his spectacles when he commenced eating small fruit, so that it might look the larger and more tempting.

FARM AND GARDEN

Fall Plowing.

The time for plowing will soon be at hand. It is even now so with some soils—those that will bear deep plowing. Deep plowing will prevent the weeds from springing up during the fall, and will expose to the elements the raw under-soil, which needs the action of the sun, rain and frost; and—what is more important than all—the air will circulate through, having a chemical action upon it.

Early plowing will also give a chance for fermentation, which takes place below, so deep in the ground, there is no chance for vegetation to reach the top during the season. This is perhaps the best way of plowing, as most of our soil will bear it.

Shallow plowing should be done later, or the weeds will spring up, warmed by the sun and the rains, and but little ground to impede their progress. Besides, late plowing turns up to the frost and the elements the roots of weeds and grasses, and disturbs the burrow of insects, and throws them to the mercy of the frost. In the spring such soil, as well as deep plowing, will be in the finest condition, not only to put in, but plow, for it is a good maxim to mellow your under-soil, which mellow soil plowed under will do—thus securing mellow throughout. This is one of the benefits of frequent plowing.

In the fall, or early winter, there is also more time at the farmer's disposal than in spring. This is important. But do not plow too wet; do not plow wet at all. There is much clay in our land generally—and clay will in no case bear touching when wet. It is less so with a sandy or gravelly loam. Still, here, as in all soils, there is clay, and the clay will be equally hurt whether there is more or less in the ground—and when hurt, an important element is lost, the clay is neutralized. This accounts for the mishaps in many crops, which cannot otherwise be accounted for. Select, then, the proper time, and improve it while you work. There are also other advantages in fall plowing, which we have no room to note here. —[Rural World.]

Winter Barley.

One of the best paying crops is winter barley. It is sown at the same time and in the same manner as winter wheat. It is a more reliable crop than wheat. It is not troubled with the fly and midge like wheat. It produces more bushels to the acre, and generally commands as high a price. It does not draw as heavily upon land as wheat. It is true it is not so pleasant to harvest and thresh barley as wheat, on account of the beard. Yet this can be endured if the profits are greater. Our St. Louis brewers are compelled to transport most of their barley and malt from Ohio. The amount of money sent to Cincinnati every fall for barley, would astonish our readers. The brewing interests of St. Louis are very great; and as they will have barley at some price or other, our own Missouri and Illinois farmers should produce it. Seed can be had of the brewers themselves, we believe. Now is the time to sow barley.

When to Select Seed Potatoes.

The best time to select seed potatoes is when they are dug. As soon as they are brought to the surface and lie spread on the ground, the best can be selected with less trouble than at any other time. Those that are perfectly matured, and of good shape, having the marked characteristics of the variety, and good average size, should be selected for seed, in preference to those of any other qualities. They should then be placed in boxes or barrels, and kept where they will not be injured by freezing or by warmth. If seed potatoes are saved in this manner for several years in succession, we have no doubt a decided improvement would be perceived in the yield per acre, as well as in the quality of the crops. And we think this plan will prove an effectual security against small ones, and a good defence against the rot. When potatoes first come from the ground, the skins have a clearness, which they soon lose. —[American Agriculturist.]

SOW WHEAT.—The incessant rains in harvest time did great damage to the wheat crop throughout the West. But little good wheat was harvested. Millions of bushels were damaged or destroyed. This must have a great effect upon the prices of the next crop of wheat. We think farmers can plant largely of wheat and obtain high prices. We know of no crop that promises a better price.

But the land should be prepared in the best possible manner, so that a heavy yield may be obtained. Be very careful to obtain good seed. So much wheat has been damaged that it will be difficult to get reliable seed. Cleanse it thoroughly before sowing.

Scrofula, or King's Evil, is a constitutional disease, a corruption of the blood, by which this fluid becomes vitiated, weak and poor. Being in the circulation, it pervades the whole body, and may burst out in disease on any part of it. No organ is free from its attacks, nor is there one which it may not destroy. The scrofulous taint is variously caused by mercurial disease, low living, disordered or unhealthy food, impure air, filth and filthy habits, the depressing vices, and, above all, by the venereal infection. Whatever be its origin, it is hereditary in the constitution, descending "from parents to children unto the third and fourth generation;" indeed, it seems to be the rod of Him who says, "I will visit the iniquities of the fathers upon their children."

Its effects commence by deposition from the blood of corrupt or ulcerous matter, which, in the lungs, liver, and internal organs, is termed tubercles; in the glands, swellings; and on the surface, eruptions or sores. This foul corruption, which renders the blood, depresses the energies of life, so that scrofulous constitutions not only suffer from scrofulous complaints, but they have far less power to withstand the attacks of other diseases; consequently vast numbers perish by disorders which, although not scrofulous in their nature, are still rendered fatal by this taint in the system. Most of the consumption which decimates the human family has its origin directly in this scrofulous contamination; and many destructive diseases of the liver, kidneys, brain, and, indeed, of all the organs, arise from or are aggravated by the same cause.

One quarter of all our people are scrofulous; their persons are invaded by this lurking infection, and their health is undermined by it. To cleanse it from the system we must renovate the blood by an alternative medicine, and invigorate it by healthy food and exercise. Such a medicine we supply in the most effectual remedy which the medical skill of our times can devise for this everywhere prevailing and fatal malady. It is combined from the most active remedies that have been discovered for the expurgation of this foul disorder from the blood, and the rescue of the system from its destructive consequences. Hence it should be employed for the cure of not only Scrofula, but also those other affections which arise from it, such as Eruptions and Skin Diseases, St. Anthony's Fire, Bores, or Erysipelas, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Itchings and Boils, Tumors, Tetters and Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Ringworm, Syphilis, and Mercurial Diseases, Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Debility, and, indeed, ALL COMPLAINTS ARISING FROM VITiated OR IMPURE BLOOD. The popular belief in "impurity of the blood" is founded in truth, for scrofula is a degeneration of the blood. The particular purpose and virtue of this Sarsaparilla is to purify and regenerate this vital fluid, without which sound health is impossible in contaminated constitutions.

AYER'S

Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla.

Ague Cure,

FOR THE SPEEDY CURE OF

Intermittent Fever, or Fever and Ague, Remittent Fever, Chills, Malaria, Bilious Ague, Periodical Headache, or Bilious Headache, and Bilious Fevers, indeed for the whole class of diseases originating in bilious derangement, caused by the Malaria or Miasmatic Cause.

We are enabled here to offer the community a remedy which cures the above complaints with certainty, is perfectly harmless in any quantity. Such a remedy is invaluable in districts where these afflicting disorders prevail. This "Cure" expels the miasmatic poison of FEVER AND AGUE from the system, and prevents the development of the disease, if taken on the first appearance of its premonitory symptoms. It is not only the best remedy ever yet discovered for this class of complaints, but also the cheapest. The large quantity we supply for a dollar brings it within the reach of every body; and in bilious districts, where FEVER AND AGUE prevail, every body should have it and use it freely both for cure and protection. A great superiority of this remedy over any other ever discovered for the speedy and certain cure of Intermittent is that it contains no Quinine or mineral, consequently it produces no quinine or other injurious effects whatever upon the constitution. Those cured by it are left as healthy as if they had never had the disease.

Fever and Ague is not alone the consequence of the miasmatic poison. A great variety of disorders arise from its irritation, among which are Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Gout, Headache, Stiffness, Toothache, Earache, Catarrh, Asthma, Palpitation, Painful Affection of the Spleen, Hysteria, Pains in the Bowels, Colic, Paralysis and Derangement of the Stomach, all of which, when originating in this cause, put on the intermittent type, or become periodical. This "Cure" expels the poison from the blood, and consequently cures them all alike. It is an invaluable protection to immigrants and persons travelling or temporarily residing in the malarious districts. If taken occasionally or daily while exposed to the infection, that will be created from the system, and cannot accumulate in sufficient quantity to ripen into disease. Hence it is even more valuable for protection than cure, and few will ever suffer from Intermittent if they avail themselves of the protection this remedy affords.

THE AMERICAN CONFLICT.

A History of the Great Rebellion.

BY HORACE GRISWOLD.

THIS work will be printed on fine paper, and issued in two large double column octavo volumes of 648 pages each, illustrated by Maps, Diagrams of Battle-fields, Sieges, Naval Actions, views of places of historical interest, (obtained from official reports in the War and Navy Departments, etc.) together with a large number of fine steel plate Portraits of prominent Generals and other distinguished persons connected with the War, both North and South. The work, when completed, will contain upwards of one hundred Maps and Diagrams of Battle-fields, and cannot fail to take the first rank as a standard history of the American Conflict.

Volume I, covering a period from 1776 to 1862, will present a more comprehensive exhibit of the causes and incidents of the rebellion, tracing the influences of slavery in moulding the opinions of the people, and in shaping the destinies of our country, than any similar work. It will also contain seventy portraits on steel, classified and arranged in appropriate groups, besides other illustrations of much interest.

Volume II, will be published as soon as practicable. In all respects, it will be fully equal to Vol. I. It will contain a valuable copper plate map of the Seat of War, about 28 by 38 inches, engraved expressly for this work, presenting in one view the whole field of Military operations—the rivers, railroads, battle-fields, principal military routes traversed by the large armies, etc. SUBSCRIBERS TO THE AMERICAN CONFLICT WILL PLEASE OBSERVE:

1st. The undersigned hereby guarantee that the volumes to be delivered shall in every respect be equal to the description given on this card, and in the agent's order book; otherwise, subscribers will not be obliged to receive the work.

2d. The work is sold exclusively by subscription, through authorized travelling agents, and in no case can it be obtained in the book stores.

3d. Subscribers are requested to be prepared to take the volumes when presented, thereby avoiding unnecessary delay on the part of the agent.

4th. The work will be furnished to subscribers at the following prices, each volume to be paid for on delivery:

TRUSTEE'S SALE.

BY virtue and authority of a deed of trust, made and executed on the 1st day of April, 1882, by Samuel Dunn and Margaret J. Dunn, to the undersigned Jacob Mosier, which said deed of trust has been duly entered of record in the Recorder's office of Holt county, in Book I, page 148-4, I will on Monday, the 16th day of October, 1885, between the hours of ten o'clock A. M. and six o'clock P. M., of said day, at the north door of the court house, in the city of Oregon, proceed to sell to the highest bidder for cash, the real estate mentioned and described, to-wit: The south half of the north-east quarter, the north-west quarter of the south-east quarter, and the north-east quarter of the south-west quarter of section No. thirty-six, (36) in township No. sixty-one, (61) of range No. thirty-eight, (38) which said deed of trust was made to secure the payment of a certain promissory note, mentioned and described in said deed of trust. This sale is therefore made to pay said note with the interest thereon, and the costs of this trust.
